THE BEST, AND CHEAPEST, AND MOST UNIFORM SERIES OF STANDARD SCHOOL BOOKS

SCHOOL BOOKS

EVER PUBLISHED.

The those edgaged in the important, but arduous task of instructing youth, McGIFFEVS ECLECTIC READERS, Nos. ONE, Two, Tourne and Four, are now presented, thoroughly revised, and greatly enlarged, with many important improvements. They are now in a permanent stereotype form, NO FUR. THER ALTERAL IONS being intended.

Prof. McGutley's enthusiastic devotion to the cause of Edhica tion has the task and discriminating mind, and his practical experience as in instructor, render him peculiarly fitted for the department of authorship, to which lie has given his attention. The suggestimes of intelligent teachers who had used the former editions of the series, and the valuable id afforded his in the revision by an experienced educator, have also furnished him with unusual facilities for advantageously revising and enlarging these works.

In this series, comprising as it does, a careful selection of instructive, entertaining and moral matter, progressively arranged, and graduated with reference to the capacity of the public remplifies, and ethicant auxiliary in the education of youth. Its extensive use has been sufficient for the development and just appreciation of insumy excellences. The result is, that intelligent teachers pronounce it the most complete veries now before he public.

The intrinsic merit of Prof. McGuffey's Eelectic Readers, hav precisition of insumany excellencies. The result is, that intelligent teachers promounce it the most complete series now before he public.

The intrinsic merit of Prof. McGuffey's Eclectic Readers, having gained for them an unparalleled and rapidly increasing circulation, the publisher is enabled, notwithstanding the heavy expendance in their revision and enlargement, to manufacture them in the net est and mess darable manner, while they are new firrished at such low prices, that they are the CHEAPEST, as well as the best sencol tending books extant.

JUST PUBLISHED.

IN SENATE.

Tuesday, January 6, 1846.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. Hunter. The Clerk read the Journal of yesterday.

The SPEAKER laid before the Senate a report from the First Auditor, containing a list of bonds received, cancelled and burnt. The SPEAKER announced the select committee to inquire whether the maps accompanying the report of the commissioners in reference to the boundary between Kentucky and Tennessee, should be engraved and printed, as follows, to wit: Messrs. Peyton, Helm and Slaughter.

A message from the H. R. announcing the passage of sundry bills in that House.

Mr. FOX presented the petition of Mrs. Martha Susan Kincaid, praying to be divorced from her husband, Richard Kincaid, jr., and that she be restored to her maiden name of Martha Susan Owsley: read and referred to the committee on Religion.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

A bill to change the time of the inceting of the General Assembly to the first Monday in December in each year hereafter.

Mr. EVANS moved to amend by striking out December and inserting November.

Mr. HARRIS would feel much obliged if the Senator from Allen, (Mr. Evans,) would be persuaded to concur in the bill without amendment. He was sure if that Senator's amendment received the sanc tion of the Senate, it would ensure the defeat of the bill in the H. R. Many members of both Houses were members of the bar, and could not possibly reach here on the first Monday in November, without abandoning their practice to a great extent. He practiced in four courts, held in the month of November, one of the terms commencing on the third Monday; and if the time of the meeting of the general Assembly be fixed by law for the first Monday in November, he and others would be compelled to resign their seats in the Legislature. If the amendment prevail, he would vote against the bill. It seems to be the purpose of Senators to adopt the change. Many members had suffered much, travelling here this session, long journeys through ice and snow and bad roads.

Mr. EVANS would be gratified to accommodate the Senator from Floyd, (Mr. Harris) if he thought his proposition right and just. A few years ago, the meetings of the Legislature were on the first Monday of December, as proposed by this bill, but the Christmas holidays intervening, before the sessions were closed, recesses were taken, time lost, members went home, and the people complained. Against the present time of meeting it need only be projed that we have had hard travelling and most uncomfortable exposure in reaching bere, the rivers being frozen and the roads in desperate condition. He would go for the first Monday in December, if he could not get the first Monday in November. He knew the lawyers had Courts to attend to in November; but to leave their Courts is a privation they must undergo for the honor of being legislators. If to abandon a portion of practice at the bar were a conclusive consideration, he, too, would be compelled to resign, for some of the terms of his Courts would be interfered with by the adoption of his amendment. But he was willing to forego a portion of his practice and professional emoluments for the honor of his seat in the Schate, in assisting to promote the public interests. He deemed November the most eligible time of meeting, because the weather was pleasant, travelling comfortable and expeditious, fuel would be saved, the public business would be dispatched, and they could adjourn and return to their families, and enjoy the Christmas holidays at home, if they met the first Monday of that month. Meeting at that time, the members would be expeditous with public business, and nothing was so pleasing to the people as short

Mr. HEADY preferred the present time of meeting, the 31st of December, to either day proposed; but if it is to be changed, he preferred the first Mon-day of December. The present time of meeting was more convenient to the farmers, because before the day arrives their pork is killed and salted, hogs sold and corn gathered. The first of November is the farmer's busiest time. But to the present time.

Mr. DRAKE thought the time of assembling had

He wished to find out as much as he could-and he cared not from what source. Neither was he careful about the disgrace of an anfaithful public officer, nor the disgrace of his children-if it must needs be that the sins of the father be visited upon the children. But, if the evils complained of did not exist, then there could be no fear of disgrace; and if they did exist, the sooner the better. IN SENATE.

Monday, January 5, 1845. Powers and Duties of the Committee on Executive Affairs and the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. HARRIS introduced a resolution, that all ominations of Judges, Judicial Officers and Commonwealth's Attorneys, be referred to the committee them back to the Senate for reference to the committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. GRAY could see no good object to be gained by the adoption of the resolution. It is a proposition to refer nominations, in certain cases, to two standing committees, instead of one. As the rule of the Senate now stands, all such nominations go to the committee on the Judiciary. He hoped the I am prepared to say, that of all the questions to rule would not be changed, as it would be, by the which I have ever turned my attention, as creating

Mr. HARRIS explained. He wanted the rule to apply to all nominations. He had cited the case of the Judge sent to the 19th District merely as an illustration of the soundness of the principle involved in his resolution.

Mr. GRAY had no objection to the Senator from Floyd taking any course he might think proper on any nomination whatever; but he did not see the propriety of changing the rules in order to bring a subject within the province of a committee on which a Senator, desirons of conducting an inquiry, might happen to be placed.

The debate in the U.S. Senate on the resolutions offered by Messrs. Hannegan and Calhonn, in relation to the Oregon question, has added greatly to the confidence of intelligent observers of events, each brow. that there will be no war. Indeed, we think the debate confirms the hope that the question will be peacefully adjusted by negatiation. Adopting the spirit of Mr. Archer, we disdain to say we mean an began such a battle! It being Saturday, all the boys honorable adjustment by a peaceful settlement. We of both schools were on the ice, and the fight inwant no peace at the expense of honor; but we believe the question can be adjusted honorably and peacefully by treaty. For those who repudiate all compromise and despise and deride all accommodation, we feel the utmost scorn. They set at nought all the lessons of wisdom which time and history have taught. They would lose every certain and practical good, in grasping after imaginary advantages. And it is precisely this class of men, that "O, neathing at a', mann; we just want to gie are making such loud and disgusting splutterings them a gude thrashiu'—that's a'." about patriotism and chivalry and all that sert of cheap profession-men at the best who have no

This indication, connected with the fact that others of the same party in the Senate are of the same mind, makes it pretty certain that we shall have peace; or, at any rate, we shall not have a rash war. If war is to come, let it be shought at the time, and have often thought since, efter every pacific remedy has been exhausted. that this trivial play was the best epitone of war in Then we can go into a war with the strongest possible moral force, added to the force of arms.

In turning over the pages of an old magazine we have fallen upon the best translation which we have yet seen of the celebrated Inscription to Faustus. The plan of this wonderful drama was sketched out while Goethe was a student, but the first part was not published until he had passed the meridian of life. The penning of this Inscription recalls to the poet's mind the companions and friends of his youth, JANUARY 7, 1846, with whose voices and presence the conception of the drama is associated: visions of early days float around him at the moment, but he looks out beyond them, from the threshold of old age, into strange countenances and an altered world—the early friends curacies in our reports of proceedings, which require correction, for whose praise he had toiled, and the youthful they are respectfully requested to bring them to the notice of the days radiant with hope and joy, for ever passed away. All readers will admire the sweet mourn-FRANKLIN INSTITUTE .- The attention of every ful beauty which breathes through the following Ye throng before my view, divinely clear, Like sun-beams conquering a cloudy sky! Beneath your lightning-glance my spirit burns, Magic is breathing-youth and joy returns!

What forms rise beamtiful of happy years? What lovely shadows float before me fast? Like an old song still tingling in the ears, I hear the voice of loves and triendships past ;-Renewed each sorrow and each joy appears That marked life's changing labyrinthine waste ; The friends return, who past in youth away, Cheated, alas! of half life's little day.

A CUBA MEETING IN ILLINOIS .- We copy the following from the St. Louis Republican of the 13th

There have been two meetings in Springfield, Ill., the object of which seems to have been the annexation of Cuba to the United States, either peaceably, or by war if necessary to its attainment. It was a Locofoco affair, mainly, and afforded much amusement. Governor Ford presided at the meeting, and four vice presidents and as many secretaries were appointed. A committee formerly appointed, reorted an address and resolutions-after which, Lievernor John Reynolds, who claims this bantling as his own, made a decided war speech-when this was over, Mr. Johnson, of Galena, offered a resolution, which threw the Cuba men into some confu-Paint Brushes of all sizes, &c.

WOMEN AT FORTY AND FIFTY .-- A late number of the New Monthly Magazine holds the following humorous discourse in relation to the way the ladies of middle age get over their years. Women of forty hold up tolerably well, according to this writer-it is when they arrive at fifty that the "trial of trials" comes upon them. Hear the editor talk, or rather read what he writes:

"The man who is ashamed of his poverty would be proud of his riches, but though many a hobblede-boy blashes at looking so young, he makes no boast of his years when he comes to be a greybeard. To women, whose youth and beauty some times form their only distinction, it is doubly dithcult to grow old with a good grace, especially as they approach that semi-centenarian bourne beyond which, unless they possess the Medean secret of Ninon de l'Enclos, they cannot hope to extend the preservation of their good looks. None of them can expect to rival a living. I might say an undying, contemporary, who will be known as middle aged Hallam, even when he shall have accomplished his three score years and ten. Women aspire not to any such mediæval celebrity, for to them the middle ages are the dark ages. It was said of a lady, who had just completed her fourth decade, and who played very loudly upon her piano, while she never alluded to her age except in a whisper, that he was forte upon her piano, but piano upon her forty. But the trial of trials comes ten years later. To that female, therefore, be awarded the palm of fortitudinis fortitudo fortissima, who has shown that she knows how to bear her fifty-Inde with fortitude.

DENTAL SURGERY.

W. II. DAVIS, resident Surgical and Mechanical DENTIST, respectfully tenders his Professional Services to the citizens of this city and vicinity. Defective teeth should be filled before their beauty or symetry is destroyed, and thereby not only render them ornamental, but useful the remainder of life.

I am also prepared to insert ARTIFICUAL TEETH, upon the principle of Almospheric Pressure, (when the circumstances of the case will admit it.) after the latest and most approved method, with or without ARTIFICIAL GUMS, from one tooth to an entire sett, and in a style not surpassed anywhere. Teeth set on pivot, cleansed, &c.

Extracting done with the latest and most improved instruments, and with the least possible pain. All operations performed in a careful and satisfactory manuer.

QUEENSWARE AND CHINA, AT N. YORK PRICES.

A CARD FOR 1846.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS who are in the habit of purchasing their queensware and China in the Eastern Cities, would do well to bear in mind that they have now a chance of saving from $12 to $15 per crate, by making their purchases of the subscribers in Louisville. We are the first in the Hestern country to of fer these Goods at eastern prices, without carriage, thereby making a saving of all freights and charges to Western merchants, being about $12 to $15 per crate, as also the loss of time in reting their goods. We have taken particular care to hind out the lowest eastern prices, and will here give a sample, viz. 3 quart White Granite, or any colour Hexagon Pitchers, $450 per dozen; Twillers, or 9 inch plates, White Granite or any colour, 75 cents per dozen; Painled Teas 10 cents per set, and 50 sets to $100, or one set to every $2 of bill. Every article in the line proportionably low. Our stock will be very full and complete in February. per dozen; Painled reas lockery article in the line proportion one set to every $2 of bill.
